

We are at a turning point. As I write this, the leak of the Supreme Court document about overturning Roe vs Wade is a couple days old, and it has been weighing heavy on my heart since. Now, before you tune me out, please allow me to communicate two things. First, I am pro-life. Second, this WILL NOT be a political article about this leak, abortion, or anything of the sort. This article, though brief, will shed some light on why this issue is weighing heavy on my heart and why it should weigh on yours as well.

For decades, pro-life and pro-choice battlelines have been drawn. Shots have been fired at each other and trenches have been dug deep as the “us versus them” battle rages on. Now, with the possibility of Roe vs Wade being overturned, the rhetoric is heating up and threats are being made. As it currently stands, this is a battle that no one will win and with many casualties. That is my fear and thus the reason I am writing this article.

What weighs heavy on me is how will the Church/Christians respond if this law is overturned? Will it be a “we one and you lost” mentality, or will Christians get their hands dirty and work for reconciliation to the glory of God. As a pro-life person I know what I would like to see happen, but the work is just beginning, whether this law is reversed or not. The dialog cannot end here. I may disagree with some of you reading this, but I do not hate you. I am willing to talk and listen, but not willing to cut you off.

I am concerned about the Church, and thus the heaviness on my heart. How will I respond to a reversal of Roe vs Wade? That is what fills my prayers recently and I encourage you, brothers and sisters, to pray thusly. I encourage you, who do not know Jesus, to not just dismiss me/the Church out of hand. There is much work to be done and we cannot let Satan use this to further his agenda; to divide this country even more. Nobody wants that. May God be glorified in your words and actions as you reach out and minister to ALL life, as difficult as that may be. Seek God’s help and strength, and God willing, this nation will begin healing. To God be all glory, now and forever, Amen.
